

The Power of Giving

Thank you for your generous support in the launch of

Building a Cure...The Power of Giving

A cooperative charity to highlight the giving nature of our building community!

It is our sincere hope that this new organization will be capable of making considerable donations towards these important causes...

The Neuroblastoma Program at the University of Chicago Comer Children's Hospital, in memory of Matthew Bittker.

This innovative research program is led by Dr. Susan L. Cohn, MD—a nationally respected authority on neuroblastoma, the most common cancer among babies and one of the most prevalent cancers in children under the age of ten. Dr. Cohn and her team strive to advance “state-of-the-art treatments for neuroblastoma patients, so that cure rates can be maximized and treatment related toxicity minimized.
